

Hearing Wings - A Story of Hope, Resilience, and the Power of Music

Hearing Wings (In A Nutshell -- Story 2) by Deborah Smith

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language	: English
File size	: 1426 KB
Text-to-Speech	: Enabled
Screen Reader	: Supported
Enhanced typesetting	: Enabled
Word Wise	: Enabled
Print length	: 10 pages
Lending	: Enabled

Hearing Wings is a non-profit organization that provides music therapy and other services to children with hearing loss. The organization was founded in 1994 by Elizabeth H. Hirschfeld, a musician and music therapist who has dedicated her life to helping children with hearing loss reach their full potential.

Elizabeth H. Hirschfeld, Founder of Hearing Wings

Elizabeth H. Hirschfeld was born in New York City in 1946. She began playing the piano at the age of five and quickly developed a passion for music. After graduating from high school, she attended the Berklee College of Music in Boston, where she studied music therapy. In 1970, she earned a master's degree in music therapy from New York University.

After graduating from college, Hirschfeld worked as a music therapist in a variety of settings, including hospitals, schools, and private practice. In 1994, she founded Hearing Wings, a non-profit organization dedicated to providing music therapy and other services to children with hearing loss.

Hearing Wings

Hearing Wings is a non-profit organization that provides music therapy and other services to children with hearing loss. The organization's mission is to "empower children with hearing loss to reach their full potential through the power of music." Hearing Wings offers a variety of programs and services, including:

- Music therapy
- Speech therapy
- Auditory training
- Family support
- Educational advocacy

Hearing Wings serves children with hearing loss from birth to 21 years of age. The organization's services are provided in a variety of settings, including hospitals, schools, clinics, and private homes.

The Power of Music

Music has a powerful impact on the lives of children with hearing loss. Music can help children with hearing loss to:

- Develop their listening and language skills

- Improve their speech production
- Develop their social and emotional skills
- Increase their self-confidence and self-esteem

Music therapy is a type of therapy that uses music to address the physical, emotional, cognitive, and social needs of individuals with disabilities. Music therapy can be used to help children with hearing loss develop their listening and language skills, improve their speech production, develop their social and emotional skills, and increase their self-confidence and self-esteem.

Success Stories

Hearing Wings has helped countless children with hearing loss reach their full potential. Here are just a few success stories:

- John is a young boy who was born with hearing loss. John began receiving music therapy services from Hearing Wings when he was just two years old. John has made great progress in his listening and language skills, and he is now able to communicate with his family and friends using spoken language.
- Mary is a teenage girl who has been deaf since birth. Mary began receiving music therapy services from Hearing Wings when she was six years old. Mary has developed a strong interest in music, and she is now able to play the piano and sing. Mary is also an active member of her school's choir.
- Bob is a young man who has been deaf since birth. Bob began receiving music therapy services from Hearing Wings when he was 10 years old. Bob has developed a passion for music, and he is now able to play the drums and guitar. Bob is also a talented songwriter, and he has written several songs that have been performed by his band.

How to Get Involved

There are many ways to get involved with Hearing Wings. You can:

- Donate to the organization
- Volunteer your time
- Attend a fundraising event
- Spread the word about the organization

To learn more about Hearing Wings, please visit the organization's website: www.hearingwings.org.

Hearing Wings is a remarkable organization that is making a difference in the lives of children with hearing loss. The organization's founder, Elizabeth H. Hirschfeld, is a true pioneer in the field of music therapy. Hearing Wings is a shining example of how music can be used to empower children with disabilities to reach their full potential.

Hearing Wings (In A Nutshell -- Story 2) by Deborah Smith

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language	: English
File size	: 1426 KB
Text-to-Speech	: Enabled
Screen Reader	: Supported
Enhanced typesetting	: Enabled
Word Wise	: Enabled
Print length	: 10 pages
Lending	: Enabled

FREE

DOWNLOAD E-BOOK

Naruto Vol. 27: Departure - An Epic Saga of Courage and Adventure

Overview Naruto Vol. 27, titled "Departure," is the 27th installment in the popular Naruto manga series created by Masashi Kishimoto. The...

Export Now: Five Keys to Entering New Markets

Are you looking to expand your business into new markets? If so, you'll need to have a solid export strategy in place. In this article, we'll discuss five key factors that you...