The poems in this collection are divided into three sections: "Love," "Loss," and "Identity." The "Love" section explores the different facets of love, from the joy and passion of new love to the pain and heartbreak of loss. The "Loss" section deals with the grief and pain of losing a loved one, and the "Identity" section explores the challenges and triumphs of finding one's place in the world.

Benaim's writing is both personal and universal. She writes about her own experiences of love, loss, and identity, but her poems also speak to the larger human experience. Her poems are full of insight and wisdom, and they offer a unique perspective on the human condition.

No Roses For Sharon Sabrina Benaim is a must-read for anyone who has ever loved, lost, or struggled to find their place in the world. Benaim's poems are a powerful reminder that we are all connected, and that we are all capable of love, hope, and redemption.
